

JAPAN IT WEEK SPRING COMING SOON

Japan's Largest IT Show to be Held from May 11th, 2011

March 2011

Japan's largest and most influential IT industry trade shows will be held under the collective name of "Japan IT Week Spring." Made up of 11 concurrent IT shows which will take up the entire East and West Halls of the Tokyo Big Sight venue, Japan IT Week Spring will be held from May 11 (Wed) – 13 (Fri) and is set to attract 1,560 exhibitors from around the world. With participation by the industry's leading companies, the event is regarded as the 'must-see' trade show where all kinds of solutions and IT technology gather under one roof. Japan IT Week Spring will provide the ideal business venue to compare the latest products, conduct face-to-face discussions, and finalize purchasing agreements between system integrators and end users, and is expected to gather 140,000 visitors over the three show period days.

Featured Shows

Japan IT Week Spring is made up of the following 11 trade shows: the 20th Software Development Expo (SODEC),
